

- 1) Insert reed fully into the Reed Grip
- 2) Tighten the finger screw
- 3) Push the reed and Reed Grip assembly onto the bocal until the bocal seats in the reed.

To remove, take the complete assembly off the bocal, then remove the reed from the Reed Grip.

When in use the bocal should be firmly seated in the reed socket, just as it would be if you were not using the Reed Grip.

If you have trouble inserting the bocal far enough to seat the reed, apply a little water to the O ring. Do not lubricate with grease, that will remain slippery and defeat the purpose of the Reed Grip.
